We regret that our notice of the Fair yester-day must be brief, in consequence of the press I very important news, since finer stock was never shown than yesterday on the Fair Grounds to the thou-ands who were present. The ring for "harness stallions" was superb, and cleven entered the lists; and among these were John Burks' Green Mountain Morgan who was decidedly the most stylish animal in hand Messenger, Humboldt, by tircen Mountain Morgan, and worthy of his sire, as the sequel proved, and others of size, power, and style.
The crowd were satisfied, before the deelsion John Henry and Green Mountain Morgan, but the judges knew differently. The blue ribbon was finally knotted on D. M. Kelley's Humboldt. Hels a sorrel, and bears a decided resemblance to his sire, Green Mountain Morgan, who added, on this occasion, the red ribbon to his countless prizes. The other rings for stallions were full, and excited much interest. The ring for mares four years old and over, brought together eigh teen as fine harness mares as were ever collected open to the public at 3 o'clock, and it was througed to the close of the exhibition for the day. With its fruits, flowers, and exotics the alr was redulent with sweet odors, and Floral Hall seemed like to a fairy garden. HON, J. C. BRECKINRIDGE, Delivered at Lexington. Kentucky. September 5th. 1860.

A TELEGRAPHIC SYNOPSIS

At twenty minutes after 11 o'clock, Mr

Breckinridge arcs and stid:

I beg you, may no globors, friends, and old constituents, to be assured that I fe I profoundly grateful for the corollal welcome you have extended to me. The circumstances under which I appear before you are novel and maistad. I do it in obodience to the request of friends whose intelligence I have been accentioned to observe, and tit he an amount on thing for a person in my position to address resemblies of people, I can only say I hope to discuss Topkis In a manner not aftogether unworthy the attends which I occupy. I shall certainly induffer in uo language whoch in my opinion will fall below the dignity of political discussion. The condition of my health and my position make I kapossible that I can extend my voice over this vost; a sembly, but I trust I will become stronger as I proceed.

I have been asked, fellow-citizens, to speak at my own home becomes I and the political organization with which I am connected have been asked, in an unman manner and char, ed with treason to my own country. I appear be fore you to-day for the purpose, first of repelling certain accusations which have been made against me personally and industriously through other States of the Union, and next a show that the principles upon which I stand are the principles of both the Constitution and Union of our country. [I treat applainse.] And surely, if at any time a justification could be found by any man for aldressing the people in the position which I occupy, it will be found in my ca.—Anonymous writers and wandering crators have chosen to tell the people that L individually, and a distuinnish and a traitor to my oundry; and they declare, and with assurance alliran, that I have exhibited a treason that makes, by comparison with it, Burr a particle, and the memory of Arnoid respectable; but, fellow-citizens, before I come to those toples, I desire to make and prove a comprehensive statement in regard only by stitute to mobody soliciting support. I have conversed with mobody I have provised with Intrigui the disruption which took place there, my name, without any solicitation on my part, was sie, I said I did not desire to be presented to the American people, but I am centent with the hours which have been heaped my on me byte y state and my constry, and I look forward with placaure to the prospect I have of serving my country in the Senate of the United States to the next six years. My name, however, wa presented, and I felt I could not refuse to accept the acadination under the circumstances without abandoning vital principles and betraying my friends.

The genticatan whom it present Inever received the vote required by the rules of Democratic organizations. Whole States were excluded and distranchised in that Convention, not to speak of individuals. The most the grant asts of highstice were perpetrated for the parpose of forcing a particular degma upon the Democratic organization and the gentleman who is the representative of that dogma—of principles which I will be able to show requirementalike to reason and the Constitution.

Dwing to the impropriety of those proceedings a decided inspority of the delegates from your own State withdrew from the Convention of the real Democratic organization, and nearly the entire delegations from the fitteen Sauthern States, and from California and Oregon, with large insjorities from other States, and most two-thirds of the States of the Confederacy, represented at a National Democratic for using whole or in part delegations from almost two-thirds of the States of the Confederacy, represented at a National Democratic for entire defending upon the authority and loyalty of the Democratic party.

I believe it has been published hadmost every 50, thern newspaper of the Opposition party, that I signed a peiltion for the pardon of John Brown, the Harper's Ferry nurderer and traiter. This is wholly matrie. So much for that.—[Cries of "Good?"]

It has been extensively charged and siremate, that I was in layor of the election of Gen. Taylor to the Pre Hency, and opposed to the election of Cass and Butler. This, also, is wholly untrue, that I was in layor of the election of Gen. Taylor to the Pre Hency, and opposed to the election of Cass and Butler. This, also, is wholly untrue, in the earlief that I was in the city of Lexington, in which I participated, by which General Taylor was recommended for the Presidency of the United States. A difference of opinion existed at that time, as to the political sentiments of that distinguished gentleman. I was assured, upon grounds satisfactory to me, that they coincided with my own political epin lons, and I united in the neceing. Pretty soen afterward in 1888, I found the campaign in tull blast, with Taylor for the Whigs, and Cass and Buller in nonlination by the National Democracy. It is well known to he asands of those within the sound of the voice, that as soon as I returned home, I took the stung in behalf of the Democracy and mainfained its doctrines to the best of my additive, I voice—"All right,"] and I was not affaile toder, because they were the representatives of my principles, and you may judge of my seal, uson of those gentlemen was my old commander and my friend. It was said that I was not present and did not vote at the election at Lexington if 883, and that I was not present and did not vote at the election at Lexington if 883, and that I was gone the season and did not vote at the election at Lexington if $100.

Another charge has been extensively circulated hroughout the Southern Statts. It useems that was an examinationist in 1819, or at least total foruncumanipationist at some time. Douglas on Bargain and Sale. It is now known to the whole country that Dorolas and his men have refused in every instance any fusion with the BRECKINEIDGE wing of the Democracy. It is equally as well known that in all the Sonthern as well as Northern States, the leaders of the Doublas and Bell. parties are on the best of terms, and have no introversy and no collision on the stump or in over to Come's support the Douglas vote of Kentneky, at the late August election. They succeeded in part, but many of them east their votes for Bolling. There has been a fusion in New York between the Douglas and Bellimen. rally for BELL, but to vote so as lo prevent LIN-COLN from carrying the State. Nahody suriquee that Bell has any chance to carry Indiana. The Jonrnal supposes DougLas is next strongest to LINCOLN, and the effort Is to transfer Bell's etock in Indiana to Douglas, for Douglas' stock in Kentneky or clsewhere in the South. It does not require more than half an eye to see that Douglas has bargained his interests in the South to BELL for BELL's interest in the North, and the leaders on each side are hard at work cour-ing the voters to execute the nefarious sale. Will the rank and file here ratify the bargain? Are Kentnekisus, who have prided themselv s upon their life-long Democracy, ready to he transferred into the embraces of their old political Know Nothing focs? Such as can be ca-joined all the way into a vote for Bria, will be put through on the Bell ticket. The more wary portion who are not prepared for a full change all at once, will hang at the half way point, and vote the Douglas ticket.

Dorolas is skillful in proposing bargains, if he could only have them executed. He tried to sell out the Democracy to the North. He proposed that the Northern people should have all the Territories, If they would make him President. That he would sacrifice all the interests of the Southern people in the Territories and turn it over to the North by means of his Squatter Soverelguty dodge, if they would support him; but he was nufortunate in getting e Democracy to ratify the bargain. The true Democracy had some old fashioned notions about the equality of the States, that they thought more of than they dld of Dorgans, and consequently they repudiated Douglas'

It is to be hoped the voters of Kentucky have not forgotten the wily tricks of some of these political leaders in 1855, when they were attempted to be sold to Know Nothingism, under pretext that the country was in danger of being taken by the Pope of Rome. The pre-tacies over it. Such a glorious, cloquent,

Union-saving effort was never before made .-Well, this Union-saver has abandoned his old party, and like most of his associates at the North, is now found advocating the claims of LINCOLN. In a speech before a Republican onvention at Ciucianati, on Saturday last, he gave in his adhesion to LINCOLN, and in the ourse of his remarks, said: That it was known that he had been an ardent

That it was known that he had been and was an admirer of John Bell. If he fleved in Kentneky he would vote for him. "But why not vote for him hee," It is asked? Whyt because I might just as well open a glowing store and which my bulled into the fire, and stay at home, as to vote for Bell in Ohio, and I am determined to best this informal Locofoco partly, if I can.

And, to beat this "infernal Locofoe party," LINCOLN, whose election, the Journal assures us, from day to day, will min the country, if it does not dissolve the Union! But Gen. CAREY is only doing directly what the Journal is diding Every vote given for BELL or Douglas, in the South, helps and encourages LINCOLN, and alde in the defeat of the "infernal Locofoco party," which Is the only and last hope of the country and the Union.

Hon. J. S. Chrisman.

We are requested to say that this gallant and able Democrat, who was so unrighteonsly cheated ont of the seat in Congress to which the peo ple had elected him, will meet Hon. W. C. Ax-DERSON at all his appointments. We hope the people will turn out in their strength to witness the manner lu which Mr. Chrisman will skin his Black Republican opponent, who has the im-pudence to hold up his shameless head before honest Kentuckians.

The Douglas Squatters of Cincinnali held conventions on Tuesday night for the nomination of candidates for Congress and county officers. The meetings were characterised bytnmnlt and fighting, and rowdy ism of the most disgraceful character—eminently charac-teristic of the reckless and abandoned men who have Douglas' interest in keeping. Even the Cincinnati Enquirer, debased as it is, expresses and says that they "beggar description." When the people flud ont what Douglasian really is, decent people won't touch it with a forty feet

A correspondent luforms us that Hon, J. S. CHRISMAN met Dr. D. P. WHITE and J. F. BUL-LITT at Somerset on the 30th of August, and ef fectually demolished these Squatters in debate. Mr. Chrisman sustained himself, while the Donglasites scarcely did themselves justice, county will give BRECKINEIDGE and LANE a larger majority than It has ever yet given the Democratic ticket. Our letters from various portions of the county are cheering to the canse of the true States Rights Democracy. Many of our correspond ents apeak of the changes from the cause of Douglas to that of Breckinridge, ns the evidence thicken on every hand that a further persistance in supporting a third ticket (Douglassmit will linner to the benefit of Bell and Everett, and will throw our gallant county into the arms of the pseudo Union party—the very same party, under another name, against whose domination the Democracy have so long and so manfully fought.

Fate of the Douglasites.

We have before remarked, says the Concord (N. II.) Standard, that the present time would prove to be the crisis of the late of many poliicians. That the Douglas faction is sectional, here can be no doubt whatever. It is us so tional as that of the Black Republicars. And the politiciars who lead their Democratic Fellowers into this pit of sectionalism, now yawning to receive them, will have a tearful account to render on the reorganization of the Democratic party of the Union. There will be no redecapents of the Itemocratic party view it. "I'eron Journal, in a recent letter to that paper

The honest Domocrats who may "go in" and support Douglas, will find that they are in a larder place to get out of, so far as Southern favor is concerned, than was the cave of Cyclogs to Clysess and his followers. The "Little Giant's Tree diship will prove more deadly to then than was the hospitality extended in f irylant to "Young America," who chunds up the bean-slack. Anecdote of Old Irousides.

The following is familiar to many of our reading generation proud of the noble spirits who shed so much luster on their country's name during the memorable war of 1812, with the then proud mistress of the seas, that it will bear republication at least once a year, as long as partiots are able to suidate conspirators:

The most brilliant navalaction of the last war was undoubtedly that of the American frigate Constitution (44), continuaded by Commodore Stewart, when she entired the two British corveites, Cyane and Levant, of greatly superior force, each of them being equal to the old-fashioud-librity-three gun frigates. The handling of the American frigate was throughout scientific and unex-piptionable.

By no manequering could either of the British vossel; abbain a pastion to take the Constitution. Shift their ground as they would, old Ironsides was between the in, blazing away nion both vessels at the fame time. Drining the whole action, Stewart, instead of mounting the horse-shock, sat in a hore exposed pastion astride the hammock neflings, the batter to deserve the manneaux ring of his antagonists. THE RIVER was slowly falling yesterday, with four feet eight inches water in the canal by the mark, at dark. During the previous twenty-four hours the river had only fallen one luch at the head of the falls. The weather was very warm all day, with indications of rain at noon.

At Cincinnati, at noon yesterday, the river was ported to be slowly swelling, but by the officers of the mail boat, we learn that a good rise was expected, as the boats in from above report a rise of three feet in Big Sandy.

Boats from below, last evening, report the river swelling as far down as Henderson, with over eight feet water at Fliut Island, and tour and a half feet at Caseyville and Cumberland.

The Mary E. Keene, the splendid new packet for

New Orleans and the Bends, an extended notice of which we gave yesterday, takes her departure to New Orleans direct this evening. So is at the Porland wharf, and passengers are assured that she starts at 5 o'clock, and not sooner She is receiving her ontit and furniture, and Capt. Richardson, who is a pune tual boatman, will depart at the hour, as he is bonul to leave New Orleans to-morrow week. The beat takes no freight, and will loose no time on the way. She is one of the best boats ever built for the South, and travelers on her will meet with every attention and comfert. ANNUAL REVIEW COMMERCE OF LOUISVILLE.

FROM September I, 1859, to September 1, 1860. WEDNESDAY EVENING, Sept. 5, 1860

In accordance with our usual out ton, we present in the present we skly report the yearly summary of the receipts, trade, and commerce of the city, tra-gether with the ruling prices current during the year. Owing to the absence of a regularly organized Chamber of Commerce, or Merciants' Exchange, a well as the ind fference of the merchants in foruing statistics, and other causes, our report is ne-sarily short and imperfect. We have, however, contrately compiled list of the imports by the ris and several of the rallroads during the past yea also the full summary of the Pork and Tobacco trad two of the heaviest incerests of the city. The m nfacturing interests have been steadily increasing with no deeline in any branch heretofore establish but the successful introduction of many branches, which will be further increased by the st essful operation of the water works, which have seend layed by the continued high stage of the rive plpe" from the bed of the river. Our statistics wing to the incapacity of the managers to furnis the list. They have been so rushed with business that they have been unable to keep posted. In regard to receipts and the crops we will premise with the remark that a jarge number of Hogs are le ng received over the Nashville Bailroad from the forn is abundant and uninjured by the drough vailed in other districts. That will cut of hough we and icitale the packing season around the falls to be very lieavy, as the Provision trade here has largely increased, and dealers are freely offering the highest prices for fat Hogs, for November and December delivery. The Grain crops of the country, in the aggregate, have been abundant, especially in the Northwestern States. It is estimated that in Michigan the yield of Wheat was 20 bushels to the acre. In North Illinois it is said that 35 bushels it the acre have been harvested, while the Corn crop i abundant beyond precedent. Wiscous in puts down per horvest at 25 bushels as a fair average, and claim an equal profile result for other grains. Kausas, of all the Northwest, witnesses a failure in harvests. The result is favorable from all the old grain growing States, even New England producing of product neually grown more than an average amount.

The grain crops in the South and West, coming at an earlier period in the summer than those of the North, were good, even averaging a fair product in Texas, which has been the greatest sufferer this year by the unprecedented drouth. The Chleago Presand Tribune estimates the yield of Wheat the pr ent year at the following figures: Illinois, 25,000,00 bushels; Indiaus, 18,000,000; Wisconsin, 17,000,00 lowa, 14,000,000; Minnesoth, 5,000,000; Michigan, me),040; Ohio, 25,000,604. The Coru crop of Illino restimated at t50,000,000 bushels, and that of other Western States at corresponding high figures. These ects present evidences of new energy and activity the West even though prices fall.

The staples of the South do not show so favorab a prospect. The nnusual drouth bas seriously dan aged cotton, corn, cane and hemp, while the ric fields are not so promising as usual. That it is not probable that the crop will fall so far short of pr cars as many now anticipate. The yield of is the growth of the cane is confined to a nar-tion, will be small. The disasters to one trart of cane are likely to be felt wherever the crop i- co ivated. But it is different with cotton. Its ion is extended over so large a tract of country that adverse meteorological changes cannot be expecte to be felt by the whole region. The different chara-ter of the soil on which the plant is cultivated s enres large crops in some portlons of the country whatever may be the nature of the season, provided he heat of the summer does not fall below the aver

The late rains begin to affect the nature of the r ielpated. We are nearly a month in advance in the arvest over previous years. With a late frost th. oss In the early growth of the plant will be in particulated, and it is not impossible that the longer period which the planter has for gathering his cro will produce better handling and higher grades for all that he reads to market. Even in Georgia the crops are resuscitated, and orders for Corn and Flour for that region are beginning to be remanded of cotton, and the stock on hand at New Orlvans an

The trade of the dily has visible increased durb the year, with a very large excess in Provisions and Tobacco, the aggregate of the former exceeding ten million of dollars, while the aggregate amount of capital invested in all the manufacturing and mer cantile interest has amounted to fully $50,000,000.

We know of several enterprising firms in the tobacco and commission trade who have increased their bus nees from $300,000 to over $500,000 per aunum. The number of boats hullt and inspected during the year has amounted to 31, at a cost of $1,200,009. Without further remarks we subjoin our comparative tables of imports, and the commention of the leading ar-

ALCOHOL.-The trade has been steady during the year, with a domand for fully 50 per cent, over the supply of the manufatory in the city, the sules amounting to about 20,000 bbls. Owing to the advalue in whisky, prices have advanced to 40001 ets. for 75 per ceut. proof. Last year, the quotations at the close were 48@50 ets.

BAGGING, ROPE, AND HEMP.—The trade has con steady, and prices, owing to the very large crop fention, have been materially advanced during the year. The receipts of bagging and rope have not been as heavy as heretofore, owing to the hereused unmber and facilities of the city factories, which con-sume annually 4,500 tone of hemp. We quote the istier at $125 to $130 per ton. The sales of Louis-ville made bagging and rope amount to $700,000 au-nually, and if we add to this the amount sold here and manufatured elsewhere, will find that the hust-ness in this line will amount to $1.500.00. Sales of lagging at 14 to 15% ets. for hard power loom baging, and 74 to 8% cts. for common hand to extra machine rope. The factory of A. L. Shotwell & Sen has been in operation nearly a year, which consumes 20 tons of hemp per week, manufacturing 115 places bagging and 150 colls rope per week.

COTTON AND COTTON YARNS—The trade has been materially lacreased this year, with nearly double the receipts of cotton, one irra alone making the following exhibit. Their entire excepts of cot on were 8,520 bales, which was disposed of by the sale of 2,290 hairs to Kentucky manufacturers, some 6,000 bales sold to Pennsylvania, Ohio, and indiana manu-facturers, and 120 bales shipped East. In addition to the colton and corolage factories in the city, we muadd the product of the Cannellton (Indiana) Conton Mill, one of the largest und most successful in the West, which animally consumes up-wards of 4000 bites of cotton. All of this is converted into skeeting and harting, manufactures expressly for this market, and sold exclusively home merchants, adding 4,500,000 yards of sheeting our merchants, adding 4,300,000 yarms of short-and 10,000 bales of batting to our imports and trade. amount of business in Flaur has been much larger than any previous season. The corapletion of the Nashville railroad has opened to Louisville a rich narket, and this season several narchants mude their purchases in this market, who have hitherto zone to Georgia and Alabama has been a clause that one dea as fast as they poured in upon them. The school are ling the past two months have avaraged over 1,000 barrels daily, the genter portion of which was shipped to feeergis. There are some nine onlist in this city, which have a capacity of turning out nearly 460,000 labs during the year. In addition to this, the product of some fifteen or twenty country mills is sold in this market, which, together with other sources, makes Louisville a very extensive and increasing market. The grain market during the year has taken a new turn. In the first part of the year the prices of grain in the Eastern market were such as to induce millers and dealers to look in that direction for an outlet for the surplus of this region; con-sequently a large amount of grain was shipped to

In addition to this, the receipts of each by waron here amounted to about 22,500 bars. hern deprand here for wheat, and this season our e East, as heretofore.

The trade is on the constant increase, and during the coming year we should not be emprised if it would double the immense amount of trade done the past veir. There are a number of Georgia and Alabama ut have since found that Louisville is the hest no ket to obtain good grain, at reasonable prices, and all who have yet visited this market agree in saying that The s.d acf flonrand all kinds of grain have been large, at the following quolations: Superfine flour $1.750 $5.25, single extra at $5.25@$550, and double extra family at $5 55@ $6.
